DETAILED ACTION

Claim Objections

Claim 13 is objected to because of the following informalities: on line 1, the claim recited "traction" rather than "tracking." Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

With regard to claim 7, Applicant recites an "overhang support." Does Applicant mean an overhanging support, as the drawings suggest?

While applicant may be his or her own lexicographer, a term in a claim may not be given a meaning repugnant to the usual meaning of that term. See In re Hill, 161 F.2d 367, 73 USPQ 482 (CCPA 1947). The term "armature" in claim 1 is used by the claim to mean "arm," while the accepted meaning is "a piece of soft iron or steel that connects the poles of a magnet or of adjacent magnets."

Art Unit: 3653

The preamble of claim 13 recites a method of "providing positive traction to print media...." The remainder of the claim is directed to a method for assembling an apparatus, which will result in positive tracking of the media. Does Applicant intend to claim the method for assembly, as the body suggests, or the method of providing positive tracking, as the preamble suggests? The method of providing positive tracking would include the steps of loading the print media (or medium) through the tracking guide, adjusting the position of the tracking guide, or other similar steps related to the use of the apparatus.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless --

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1, 2, 7, 13 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Wanat '664.

Wanat '664 disclose a print media tracking guide comprising a guide housing 72 the guide housing being mounted in a printing apparatus and an armature 50 rotatably coupled to the guide housing, the "armature" including a head member (the spiked wheel) selectively biased against the guide housing.

Art Unit: 3653

With regard to claim 2, Wanat '664 disclose an overhang support 70. Although Wanat '664 does not disclose or suggest an overhang, he clearly suggests an overhang support. An overhang support is any element capable of supporting an overhang.

With regard to claim 10, the overhang includes a slotted area (Fig. 4).

With regard to claims 13 and 14, the media tracking guide is on a hub in a printing apparatus.

Claims 1, 2 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gregory et al. '656.

Gregory et al. '656 disclose a print media tracking guide comprising a guide housing 27 the guide housing being mounted in a printing apparatus and an armature 24 rotatably coupled to the guide housing, the "armature" including a head member (the spiked wheel) selectively biased against the guide housing. The guide housing includes a core member 26 and overhang support 23 in spaced relationship with one another, the core member and overhang support being rigidly coupled to a flange portion. That is, whatever the overhang support and the flange portion are connected to, it is the flange portion of that part. The claim does not specify what part has a flange, or whether it is the same flange on the same part to which both the overhang and the core member are attached.

With regard to claims 13 and 14, the media tracking guide is on a hub in a printing apparatus.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6 and 8 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Wanat '664.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to bias the head against the guide housing via a spring.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3, 9, 11 and 12 objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

The prior art of record does not disclose or fairly suggest a media path along the outer peripheral portion of the core member.
